Dedication

The Senior Class of 1960, Shaw University, Raleigh, North Carolina, gratefully dedicates this edition of THE BEAR to Mrs. Elizabeth Bias Cofield, Assistant Professor of Education.

Mrs. Cofield gave invaluable assistance and guidance to students with whom she came in contact. The symbol of her venturesome character was shown in her endeavors toward creativeness and perfection. Her recognition of each student as an individual encouraged student self-worth. Numerous were her praises of scholarly and personal achievements.

Her success as an advisor was accomplished through her dependable service and loyalty to the senior class.

She served as a teacher, an advisor, and a friend. She shared warmth with wisdom and humility with talent. Time shall not efface the gentle forces of her efforts to mold finer men and women of Shaw University.

Mrs. Elizabeth Bias Cofield

Foreword

Shaw University's Class of 1960 proudly presents its annual, THE BEAR. The purpose of this presentation is to inspire as well as to inform those who seek to learn about the graduating class and our alma mater.

The task of gathering information for this project and publishing it has been tremendous and arduous. However, we have gained much through our experience of combining pictures and words which unfold and illustrate the history of our class and the richness of our campus life in general.

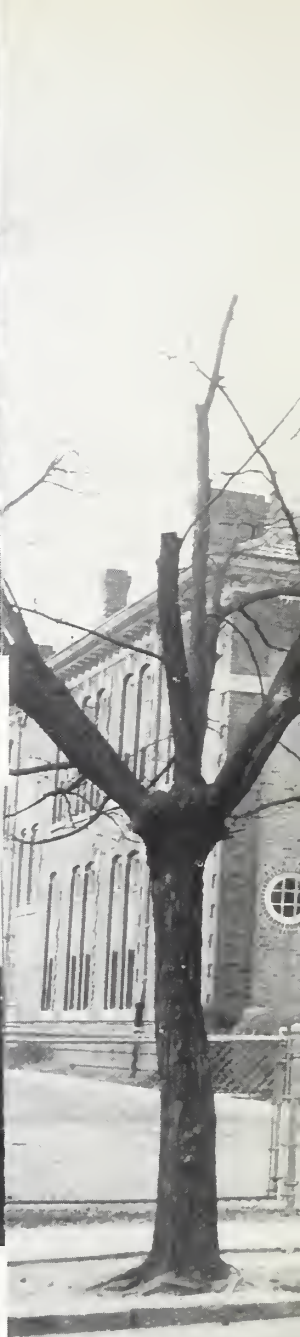

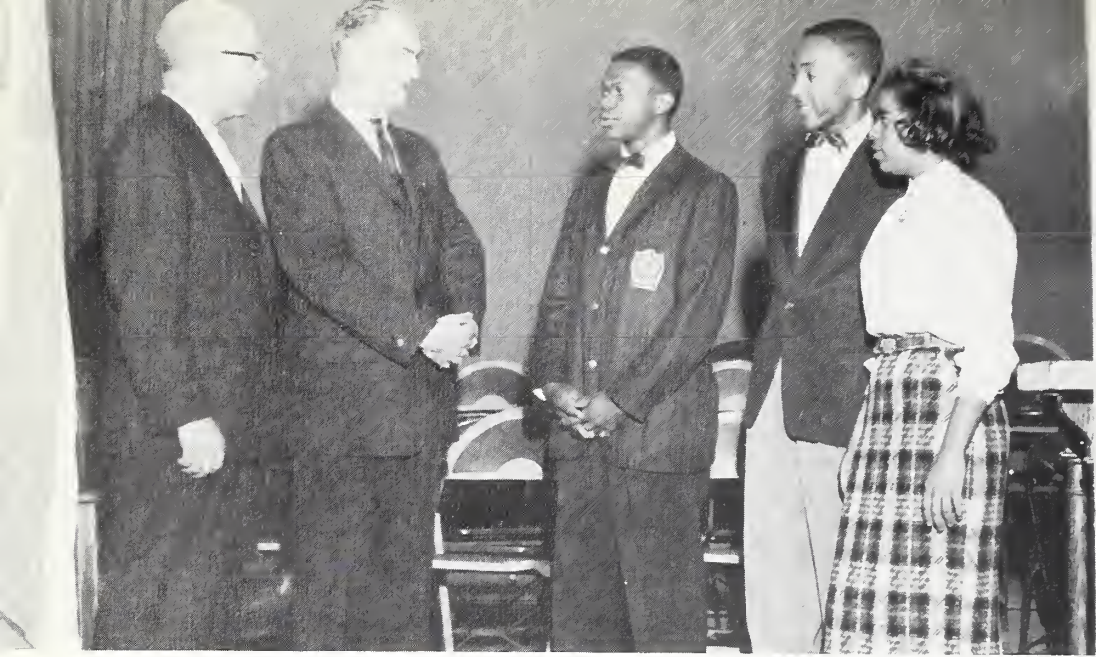

We acknowledge with deep appreciation the unselfish and sincere efforts of those persons who contributed to the production of THE BEAR.

DR. and MRS. WILLIAM R. STRASSNER

FAREWELL TO
THE CLASS OF 1960

After four years of sojourn within the walls of this historic institution you depart to enter into a rather turbulent world. We trust that these four years have been a period of mental, social, moral and religious discipline that has prepared you for the larger school of life. Here you have been sheltered, there you will be exposed; here you have been guided by teachers and counselors, there you must look for guidance from within yourselves.

Your training at Shaw University was designed to fit you for service to others and not to yourselves; but, "If you give to the world the best you have, the best will come back to you." We admonish you to give your best in whatever area you have the opportunity to serve, however humble your task may be, for it is the quality of the man that dignifies the job and not the job the man.

You go forth with the blessings of your Alma Mater upon you and may you prove yourselves worthy of being numbered among her illustrious sons and daughters.

Farewell!

Class Poem

The lights were dim on the first's year's play,
As each new line fought for its way,
Act two housed the scene of fortune's door,
While act three with ambition did implore.

Encore! Encore! Shaw's applause rings clear.

Encore! Encore! Success lies near.

Proud players of act four stage the end,
Directors with pride their players send,
Onto the stage of future's spotlights,
While critics await the new delights.

Encore! Encore! Shaw's applause rings clear.

Encore! Encore! Success lies near.

Choruses of uplifted hearts swell ivy halls,
Amid the beckoning of valedictory calls,
The four-year drama of toil we finish,
While by-gone days with memories diminish.

Encore! Encore! Shaw's applause rings clear.

Encore! Encore! Success lies near.

Class Song

BEYOND THESE HALLOWED WALLS

So long dear old Shaw U.
The time has come for us to part
Time to bid you adieu
Although it bleeds our hearts.

Our love for you dear Shaw
Our dear beloved Alma Mater
Is most profound of all
Because there is no other.

CHORUS

We long to share your warmth.
And see you grow and grow
And we shall spread your name
Wherever we shall go.

Beyond these hallowed walls
Loyal to you we shall forever be
And may God speed your love
Throughout eternity.

Alma Mater

Tune: "How can I leave thee."

Hail dear old Shaw U!
Thy sons revere thy name.
Long shall thy works be proud,
Undimmed thy fame.
Time shall thy praises sing,
Glory repay thy tears,
And loud thy praises ring
Through all the years.

Noble thy hall ways,
Noble thy grassy plain,
Nobler the hearts of men
Where thou dost reign,
All we who love thy name,
Stout hearts that shall not fail,
All rise and loud proclaim
Alma Mater, hail!

Senior Class History

In the year of 1956, one hundred and seventy-six green, eager, and excited freshman entered Shaw University. Many of us were destined to trod on these hallowed grounds for the set period of time while others of us were destined to drop by the wayside. Most of us being frightened and curious, did not realize just how queer we appeared. Nevertheless, we were intoxicated with excitement and we found the eager arms of Dr. Adams and her junior counselors waiting to greet us and guide us over the rocky road to success. After the brief period of orientation, we got down to serious business, that being, to get some hours and grade points. Of course, we had to organize ourselves to function properly and so we did. The following persons were elected to office: Forest Nance, president; Bobby Harris, vice-president; Mae Covington, secretary; Mary Hudson, treasurer; and Pedro Kornegay and Yvonne Howard as Student Council Representatives. After the first semester, Forest Nance abdicated his office; thus, making leeway for Albert Hockaday.

Our interests were to be disseminated to various co-curricular activities. Our freshman talent night was to set the precedent. Participants in the talent show were Gertrude Vaughan, Leona Horne, Peggy Steward, Delois Spruill, Iris Hairston, Nathaniel McNair and Delores Weaver. Their artistic abilities immediately attracted none other than the renowned music director, Mr. Harry Gil-smythe. Joining these artists in his rehearsal were Robena Totten, Helen Covington, Velma Adams, Charles Manley, Fred Bullock, Albert Hockaday, Wilbert Leverette, and Pedro Kornegay. In the line of sports, the football stars were Herman Hinton, Harold Ramseur, Lou Hagler, Primus Sloan, Wilbur Lytle, James Reid, Nick Clark, Nathaniel Mickens and Stewart Pough; in basketball, the shooters were Galloway Polhill, Lonnie Jones, Ernest Davis, Marion McDonald, and George Crowder; in track, the star jumpers were Malachi Rountree and Lou Hagler; in baseball, the homerunners were Wilbur Lytle, Harold Ramseur, Herman Hinton, David Cobbs, Nathaniel Mickens and Isaiah Taylor. Our stars were cheered to victory by Janet Caldwell, Janette Bennette, Elaine Watts, Addie Barfield and Eugene Sturdivant serving as cheerleaders.

Reigning over homecoming as Miss Freshman was Josephine Guess. Her court consisted of Addie Barfield and Gertrude Vaughan. Our homecoming float won second prize whose craftsmanship was under the leadership of Leo Williams.

Our participation in Religious activities was exemplified through the accomplishments of many of our classmates, one of which was Sandy McKoy's attendance at the World Baptist Youth Conference in Nashville, Tennessee. Albert Hockaday was elected president of the Religious Education Club.

Others joining our forces the second semester were Mary Brodie, Ramona Becton, Donald Ensley, Glenford Mitchell, Queen Bradley, and Grover Cordell.

Come spring, everyone's thoughts turned to romancing and dancing! Our Freshman Ball caused those thoughts to become realities.

The end of the first year found us approaching the second rung of the ladder of success. Those people having distinguished themselves on the first rung by being recipients of awards and scholarships were Milton Evans, Mae Covington, Leo Williams, Albert Hockaday, and Sandy McKoy.

We returned for our sophomore year with a light air of sophistication. Some of us were selected to orientate the incoming freshman to our way of life. Namely, we call them Junior Counselors and they are as follows: Charles Manley, Milton Evans, Nathaniel McNair, Mae Covington, Iris Cooley, Mary Hudson, Sandy McKoy, Nathaniel Mickens and Leo Williams.

Our officers that year were: president, Albert Hockaday; vice-president, Leo Williams; secretary, Mae Covington; treasurer, Mary Hudson; and advisor Mr. G. W. Jacobs.

Our Sophomore Queen for that year was Jessie Bennett who was attended by Velma Adams and Gloria McClain. Again our homecoming float won second prize. Our athletic stars became heroes, cheered by our ever loyal cheerleaders.

Many of us embarked for a new land—Greekdome. Shirley Burwell, Mary Hudson, Mattie Walker, and Ramona Becton entered Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority. The Delta Sigma Theta Sorority inducted into its membership Emma Hardy, Helen Southerland, Mae Covington, and Helen Gore. Irish Cooley and Florene McGhee joined Zeta Phi Beta Sorority. New members of Omega Psi Phi Fraternity were Moses Walker and Galloway Polhill. Leon Herndon, Milton Evans, and Cornell Adams became members of the Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity. Sandy McKoy, Albert Hockaday, Nathaniel McNair, Malachi Rountree, John Ellis, and Leo Williams joined Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity. The choir gained more of our classmates. Others ventured into drama land. Our artists joined Alpha Rho Tau Art Society. Our religious leaders remained zealous in their work. Thus, the end of our second year found us approaching the third rung of the ladder of success with Mary Taylor, Clara Watson, Nathaniel Mickens, Albert Hockaday and Iris Cooley being recipients of awards and scholarships.

Our third year began with Albert Hockaday as president, Richard Burwell as vice-president, Mattie Walker as secretary, and Mary Hudson as treasurer. Our advisor was Mrs. D. T. Spencer. Glenford Mitchell was appointed as editor of the Shaw Journal. Under his guidance excellent papers were presented to the students.

Many of us chose to gain experience by reading, others by traveling. Such was the case of Edna Pinkney, Barbara Debnam, Delois Spruill, Irish Cooley, Fred Bullock, Albert Hockaday, Margaret Wells, Mattie Walker, Mae Covington, Helen Southerland, Mary Taylor, Sandy McKoy, and Leona Horne, who joined Mr. Harry Gil-smythe and others on the bi-annual tour by the University Chorale Society. The Dramatics Club presented "Little Foxes" with actors Charles Manley, Fred Bullock and cast. The new Greeks were Jency Penny, Ethel Waller, and Mary Taylor of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority; Margaret Wells and Leona Horne of the Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority. Zeta Phi Beta Sorority gained Myrtle Jefferies, Betty Flippin, and Lonla Alston. Omega Psi Phi Fraternity gained Albert Sampson, McLouis Clayton, and Alfred Harris. Wilbur Lytle went into Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity. Charles Manley went into Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity, and Fred Bullock went into Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity. The Dramatics Club presented "Elizabeth the Queen" featuring Janette Bennette, Vernal Heath and Fred Bullock. "Miss Junior" for this year was Mary Brodie. Her attendants were Maudie Thompson and Vernal Heath. Prom time! "Moonlight in Hawaii"— everyone was dancing to enchanting strings of the melodious tunes. Members of the Student Council were Mae Covington, Albert Hockaday, Malachi Rountree, Nathaniel McNair, and Leo Williams. Members of Beta Kappa Chi Honorary Society were Milton Evans and Mary Hudson. Members of Alpha Kappa Mu Honorary Society were Mary Taylor and Milton Evans.

Our "Miss Shaw University" for the incoming year 1959-60 school term hailed from the rising senior class in the person of Mary Hudson. Our well qualified newly-elected president of the Student Council for the incoming year of 1959-60 school term took his respective position. Of course, it was Albert Hockaday. Other members elected to Student Council Offices served in their capacities very well. Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities contained in its 1958-59 edition the meritorious names of Albert Hockaday and Iris Cooley.

Our senior year finds us approaching our many goals that are to be accomplished here. Our inexorable volition to succeed has held us steadfast thus far though some of us fell by the wayside. We launched our senior year with the following persons in office: Leon Herndon, president; Leo Williams, vice-president; Mattie Walker, secretary; Mary Hudson, treasurer; Mae Covington and Beatrice Collins Representatives to the Student Council; and Mrs. E. B. Cofield, Advisor. The editor of the SHAW BEAR was Sandy McKoy. Glenford Mitchell retained his position as editor of the Shaw Journal.

Our sports' heroes magnified their names. Reigning as "Miss Senior" was Katie Russell who was attended by Ernestine Currin and Clara Watson.

Glenford Mitchell was elected as treasurer of the National Pre-Alumni Council of the United Negro College Fund. Members distinguishing themselves on campus by their all-around participation in curricular extracurricular activities were rewarded by being selected to Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges, 1959-60 Edition. They were Mary Hudson, Mae Covington, Mary Taylor, Glenford Mitchell, Milton Evans, Charles Manley, Leo Williams, Albert Hockaday, and Sandy McKoy.

For the first time, Shaw University won a plaque for its outstanding presentation of a Bill in the Student Legislative Assembly. Seniors among these representatives were Glenford Mitchell, Mae Covington, and Albert Hockaday.

We worked hard here. We worked long here. We shared our sorrows here in order that we may experience the deeper joys. But everything changes except changes itself—so must our scenery.

Senior Class Prophecy

Tonight, as I sit looking over my autograph book the room is suddenly filled with melancholy. Hoping to break this spell, I pick up the afternoon paper: My eyes catch an eye-catching phrase, "Shaw University Class of '60 on the Person to Person Show." Racing to my television, I find the program already in progress.

To my surprise I find that Ernest Davis is the roving cameraman. The first place he goes is New York where we see Cornelia Allen and Mary Alston teaching in the school system. Richard Burrell and Leon Herndon are owners of a Chemical Laboratory with Barbara Autry as their secretary. Lonnie Jones is playing with the Harlem Globetrotters. He will make this second appearance at Madison Square Garden in the future. Clara Watson, Catheryne Yeoman and Vivian Neal are New York's most prominent models. It is very touching to see Edna Pinkney sing her way into the hearts of the people at the Waldorf Astoria. Katie Russell and Helen Monk are her well-paid private secretaries.

The camera switches momentarily to foreign lands, Clyde Johnson is working in Africa as an Evangelist. Helping others spiritually is a rewarding experience to him. Clyde is never homesick because only a short distance away Jean Edwards is doing very well tutoring the Natives. Before I return to the states, the camera takes me to the University of Paris. Here I see Helen Gore, Beatrice Collins and Carrie Brock in a discussion about the works of Shakespeare. Mary Taylor is also at the University of Paris. She still has a squeakie voice, but has very little trouble getting her material over to the students.

In Philadelphia at Jefferson Hospital, I hear them saying, "Dr. Evans." As the doctor rushes by, I see it is Milton Evans who is going to perform an operation on Clarence Crutchfield. He was hurt while playing with the Philadelphia Phillies of which Galloway Polhill is the manager. Lottie Hall is employed at the hospital as a Physical Therapist.

Again in New York, Shaw University makes news as Bertha Maza replaces Angie Brooks in the United Nations. A distance away I see Ann Harris and Geraldine Dixon boarding a plane for the University of Pennsylvania where they will pursue further study in the field of English. Ernestine Currin, Mattie Walker and Gloria McClain are bookkeepers for the State Employment Agency. George Mask, Augusta Walker and Ethel Lewis are at Columbia University. They are working on their Ph.D. degree. Emma Johnson is head of dramatics. Nathaniel McNair is also on the staff, he is head of the Religious Department.

McLouis Clayton and Mary Hudson are working for a missile plant in Washington. Clayton is hoping to reach the moon very soon. Jessie Bullock, Dorothy Edge, and Helen Southerland are owners of a unique clothing shop. Emeline Grissom and Helen Covington are employed at the National Bank as accountants. Minnie Bullock and Gertrude Dickerson are at Howard University. They have received a Pulitzer Prize for their book, How To Overcome English Problems.

In Rocky Mount Fred Bullock is principal of Pope Elementary School. Jennett Bennett, Mary Greene, Leona Horne are members of his faculty. Lonia Alston, Earlene Horne, and Josephine Guess, own a nursery located near the school.

The fast moving camera takes me to California. There I see, that Myrtle Jefferies, Jessie Bennett, Maudie Thompson are teaching in the public school system. Peter "sweet pete" Curry and Alfred Harris are working at a private school for boys. Cornell Adams is head of the Science Department at the University of California at Los Angeles with Josephine Jackson as his assistant. John Ellis is also at the University of California. He is acting as Dean of Religion in place of Albert Hockaday, who is on leave for a year.

I see we are now in Florida. Here I see Glenford Mitchell is the editor of a large newspaper firm. Mary Williams and Ethel Waller are his secretaries. They are still working side by side and doing their best to make the paper the best in Florida. Wilbur Lytle and Charles Manley are members of his staff. Robert Petteway, Beasley Thompson, Jacquelyn Williamson, and Carol Vick are teaching in the Florida School System. They are doing very well under the supervision of Delois Spruill, County Supervisor.

Sandy McKoy, Florence McGhee, and Leo Williams were eager to see our new state. They are in Alaska.

Sandy is doing very well as a psychologist. Leo Williams and Florence McGhee consider this a perfect place to finish their book, The Destiny of Man. Jency Penny, their secretary, is having a hard time keeping warm. After all, this weather is a little colder than the weather in Florida.

Again the camera switches to familiar scenes. Bruce Atwater is a well known psychologist in Philadelphia. Mary and Herman Carraway, Hallie Simmons and Addie Perry are instructors at the University of Pennsylvania. The latest thing in Philadelphia is the New Ultra Modern Recreation Center. Leroy Cofield is director with Lawrence Ivey and Harold Ramseur as his assistants.

Having seen all the members of the class, the television program is now over. Melancholy slowly creeps upon me as I think of the wonderful time we shared at dear old Shaw U!
